

LONDON NATIONAL PARK CITY*

By James Delbridge and Priam Petrie...

WHAT IS LONDON NATIONAL PARK CITY

A place to explore. A movement to join. One year on from London becoming the world's first National Park City on 22 July 2019 it's still going strong and helping people during the covid-19 crisis.

LET'S MAKE LONDON GREENER, HEALTHIER AND WILDER

WHAT IS A NATIONAL PARK CITY?

EVEN THOUGH IT'S A FIRST!

A national park city is a city that is classified as a national park

What is it all about?

What is it really about?

The national park is a movement where residents, visitors and partners come together to help make the city greener healthier wider. They are trying to bring the idea of life by, leading inspiring campaigns, growing the movement and supporting and coordinating action.

WHY IS IT USEFUL

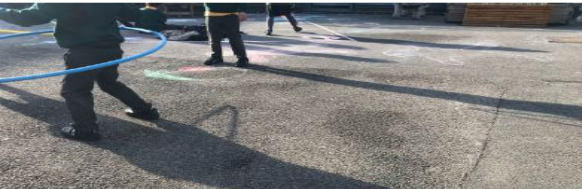

What's the big idea?

London national park city is useful in many ways. It brings more green space. It also brings more jobs for gardeners and rangers as well as putting london in the record books.

What do they offer

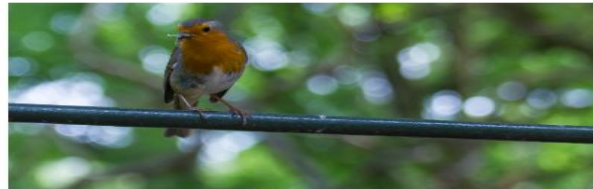

Activities?

London national park city offer a range of activities for the people that visit. They also offer outdoor space and jobs. SOME ACTIVITIES

What If.. the outdoor classroom is the new norm?

Campaigner Cath Prisk, our Schools Network lead, has been considering how schools can make far greater use of nearby outdoor space in response to

Feeding Wild Birds

I'm a great believer in the benefits of engaging with nature and its so easy as it is all around us. Bringing birds in closer proximity to ourselves by...
